Moscow, November 23, O. S.

ON the 9th Instant the Duke of Liria, Ambassadour Extraordinary from the King of Spain, set out from hence for Warsaw. Her Czarian Majesty sent her Great Chamberlain Count Biron to wish him a good Journey in her Name, who at the same Time gave him by Order of her Majesty, a very fine Diamond Ring, valued at 2500 Pounds. Her Czarian Majesty has been for some Days past very much out of Order occasioned by a great Cold, which obliged her to keep her Bed, but is at present much better.

Stockholm, Dec. 9, O. S. On the 30th of last Month the Senator Duben died at Six in the Morning, of a Pleurisy. The Honesty and Integrity, the extensive Knowledge and sound Judgment, the Industry and indefatigable Application of this great and able Minister, make his Loss unspeakable, both for their Swedish Majesties and the whole Kingdom, by all whom he is most deservedly and truly regretted. Major General Ribbing, who was Commandant of Gottenbourg, is made Governour of that Place; his Regiment, which becomes vacant by this Promotion, is not yet disposed of.

Seville, Dec. 13. On the 4th of this Month there were great Rejoycings at Court, on Occasion of the Anniversary of the Princess of Asturias's Birth-Day, who then entred into her 20th Year. The Queen, who has been very much indisposed for a few Days, is perfectly recovered. The Abbot Landi, formerly Envoy Extraordinary from the Duke of Parma at the French Court, and lately at the Court of Rome, arrived here some Days ago. The Sickness which raged at Cadiz, and in the Neighbourhood thereof, is not yet entirely abated, notwithstanding the Frost which they had there for some Days past. We have Advice from Barcelona, that the Count de Rottembourg left that Place the 12th Instant on his Journey to this City.

Copenhagen, Dec. 23, N. S. M. Schested, the Danish Ambassadour in France, having had a Promise from the late King, that he should continue no longer in that Post than to the End of this Year, will be now recalled; and Major-General Schulembourg is already appointed to succeed him, with the Character of Envoy Extraordinary.

Paris, Jan. 3, N. S. Letters from Rome of the 14th of last Month advise, that the Pope, who had been indisposed of the Gout in the Stomach for some Days, was cured thereof by revulsive Remedies.
